ALEXANDRIA VA. MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1870.

THE WAR IN EUROPE. - The London Times has a telegram discribing the scenes around Metz at the time of the surrender. A frightful storm had raged for several days all over the north of France. The entire country was under water and everything literally drowned | New Orleans.

Despatches represent that actual starvation would have been the fate of Bazaine's army if he had waited three days longer before capitulating. His soldiers desired to be led against the enemy rather than die of starvation, but he told them that such an effort would be useless in their weakened condition. The last summons to surrender has been sent into l'aris, and if it is not complied with, the bombardment will be commenced. Bismark has issued a circular in which he reviews the line of German victories to show that France can have no hope of prolonging resistance, and that Paris should at once accept the terms offered to it for capitulation. Otherwise he anticipates administration were issued to his widow, who fearful suffering to the two millions of people gave $30,000 bonds. The will bequeaths eve-within its walls, whom the besiegers will not rything to his daughter, since deceased, the within its walls, whom the besiegers will not te able to feed after the horrors of bombardthem to yield. The Government a Tours has to his historical vindication &c. issued a proclamation denouncing Bazaine's action as a betrayal of the country and calling on the nation still to persevere in their efforts for the Republic. Princes Frederick William and Frederick Charles have been made Field Marshals as a reward for their victories over the armies of Bazaine and McMahoon,

A ROWLAND FOR AN OLIVER .- Mr. B. Gratz Brown, the liberal candidate for Governor of Missouri, against whom Gen. Grant lately issued "a pronunciamento," recently made a speech, in which he said:

"He did not care the snap of a finger for the opinion of the President in this question of in ternal politics. He had been one of those who had helped to teach the President what freedom meant when he came to Missouri, in 1861, declaring that if this war meant the I beration of the saves he would strip off his ensulettes and abandon the service. He intended to teach bim further that freedom meant the liberation ! of all the white men of the nation, as well as the liberation of all the black men of the nation, and that he could not go back under the speci ous pretences of party policy upon the freedom of the white man after having accomplished the freedom of the black man.'

The news from West Virginia as to the result of the election there is highly encouraging. It is not only a party triumph, but it is a triumph of right and justice, over tyranny and oppression. Letter from Richmond.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette] RICHMOND, Oct. 29. - The Senate met in executive session at 10 o'clock this morning, and confirmed all the nominations made by the Board of Education, for county Superinten dents of Schools.

In open session the House amendments to the Road Bill were considered, some agreed to productions, &c. and some disagreed to.

The House amendments to the act in regard to the Supreme Court of Appeals were agreed to.

The House bill for the protection of fish in the Shenandoah river and the tributaries to the Potomac was passed. The bill prevents the crection of fish dams, &c., or the taking of fish in any other way than by angling.

The House bills perfecting the subscription on the part of Page county to the Shenandoah Valley Railroad; amending the charter of the town of Winchester; allowing the supervisors of Albemarle county to charge tolls on certain bridges; and the joint resolution in reference commending the action of Capt. Brown of the made, were passed.

An adverse report was made upon the proposed bill to prohibit whipping for petit crimes, to which, however, the radical members dissented upon the ground of unconstitutionality and barbarism. A conference committee upon the disagree ing votes of the two houses on the Road Bill was appointed. The calendar was called and a large number of bills, that will fail for want of time, advance ed to a third reading. The Richmond and Potomac Railroad bil was laid over until Tuesday next. In the House of Delegates a number of bills were placed upon the calendar, among them the bill to dispose of the State's interest in the Potomac bridge at the Point of Rocks.

The House refused to concur in the Senate's amendments to the Road Bill and appointed a committee of conference.

The Senate bill in relation to fences and for the protection of crops as amended was passed. A communication was laid before the House from the Auditor, announcing the receipt of the scrip for 300,000 acres of the public lands donated for educational purposes by the Congress of the United States.

Bills were passed amending the act prescrib ing the duties and compensation of township officers and appointing a constable and three justices for Staunton; also, the bill to incorpo rate the West Point and Chesapeake Railroad Company.

The bill authorizing the Board of Public Works to sell the State's interest in Works of of Internal Improvement was dismissed. Jas. E. Heath was elected by a joint vote of the two Houses of the Legislature, county

A STONE BATTLE. - Yesterday, while all the church-goers were wending their way to the various places of worship, and all was peaceful throughout nearly the whole city, a desperate stone battle was being waged at the bridge over the capal at Twelfth street, by the South Washington and city boys. The opposing forces numbered over four hundred, and comprised a motley crew of youngsters, white and black, from the youth of sixteen to the child of ten. A few were well dressed, and evidently the children of respectable parents, but the major portion were the gamins of Washington-boot blacks, market thieves, &. No one who saw the way the leaders of cach side managed their forces could fail to be reminded of the stone battles of the boys of the upper and lower town of Edinburg in which the puissant Green Brecks figured as leader on the one side and Scott on the other, as described in the life of Sir Walter Scott. The showers of stones which flew among and beyond the combatants effectually cleaned that vicinity of pedestrians. The curses and obscene language which were used would have done credit to Billingsgate. The young ruffians shrewdly and vigilantly posted their sentinels on the shed-tops and every commanding post of observation, and whenever the blue uniform of an M. P. hove in sight they would disperse and renew the battle at an upper bridge. The fight lasted for over two hours, and the battle-field extended from Twelfth to Twenty-first street. Many of the boys received severe contusions. - Wash.

PHILANTHROPISTS AND WAR. - Sumper is lecturing upon "The Duel between France and Germany, with its Lesson to Civilization." He asserts that the dismemberment of France is not the only guarantee of peace that is re-

by civilization. Thus we see Sumner, and the school of humanitarians of which he is a sort of leader, inveighing ugainst war elsewhere, while in this country war could not be too bloody and ruth less for them. What is still worse, there is no measure of punishment of the southern people, no disfranchisement, no oppression too odious for the revengeful and rancorous stomachs of these philanthropists. All the tyrannies and persecutions that engender resistance and war | ques, Jackets, Formosas Suits and other Euroare to them proper and grateful as lately they are visited upon the unfortunate people who differ from them and oppose their fanatical dogmas. CHESAPEAKE PRESBYTERY.-The Fall meeting of this Presbytery was held at Salem in this county during the last week. There was quite a full attendance of clerical and lay delegates and the business of the Presbytery was harmoniously transacted. The congregations in attendance upon the public services of the occasion were large, especially on last Sabbath, when the pulpits of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches were occupied by members of the Presbytery. We understand that religious services have been continued during this week and have been marked by evident interest in the community. The Spring meet ing will be held in Leesburg. - Warrenton

DURABILITY OF WOOD. -The piles under the London bridge have been driven 500 years, and on examining them in 1846, they were found to be but little decayed. Old Savoy Place, in the city of London, was built 650 years ago, and the wooden piles, consisting of oak, elm, beech and chestnut, were found upon recent examination to be perfectly sound. Of the durability of timber in a wet state, the piles of a bridge built by the Emperor Trajin, over the Danube, affords a striking example. One of these piles was taked up and found to be petrified to the depth of three-fourths of an inch; but the rest of the wood was not different from its former state, though it had been driven. 1,600 years ago.

GEN. GRANT'S ST. LOUIS PROPERTY .-Gen. Grant has now secured the principal part of the old Dent estate adjoining St. Louis .-His domain there, as we understand, amounts to about 600 acres of excellent land, all of which is ready made for city extension. It lies within three and a half miles of the Mississippi river, immediately in the rear of Carondelet, which was lately incorporated with St. Louis. This estate is now worth about $250,000, and a few years of city growth like that of the past ten years will raise its value to a million and a half. Then if St. Louis could get the capital this estate would perhaps, be worth double that sum. - Cincinnati Times.

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York, August 15th, 1868. Allow me to call your attention to my PREP-ARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES Mode of Preparation .- Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; a very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now to Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance: the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu, in my preparation, predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopæa, nor is it a Syrup-and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully, H. T. HELMBOLD, Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, 1... weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature, which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Dis ease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact Universal Lassitude, Prostration and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society. The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to Consumption or insanity ensues

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, in alfections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangeous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU n all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once. The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases. it is certain to effect the bodily health and men-

All the above diseases require the aid of a Di. uretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.
